Creating a Better World

Creating a better world

Refugees and Migrants in Europe

Scouts groups in 18 countries are supporting the refugees and migrants by welcoming the families, distributing basic items and organizing activities for children. They work together with the local communities to ensure an open and inclusive environment. 39 NSO/NSA attended the Refugee Response Seminar (November 2015) to identify specific needs, share best practices and define how to face challenges.

To achieve its mission, three World Scout Programmes were introduced:

World Scout Environment Programme

The World Scout Environment Programme provides support for Scouts to engage in environmental education activities, to learn about nature and the environment, and to make informed choices about the environment, people and society — choices that reflect the Scout Promise and Law.

Scouts of the World Award

The Scouts of the World Award challenges all young people (Scouts and non-Scouts), aged 15-26, to reflect on global issues and act on them at local level. It is the only award for youths provided by World Scouting, and is a key contribution of World Scouting to the United Nations (UN) Sustainable Development Goals.

Since 2012, Scouts have contributed more than 675 000 000 service hours to over six million local community service projects around the world.

Messengers of Peace

The Messengers of Peace is a global initiative of World Scouting to inspire millions of young people throughout the world to take action and effect positive change in their communities. It advocates the promotion of dialogue, peace and social entrepreneurship.

Messengers of Peace

“By 2023 Scouting will be the world’s leading educational youth movement, enabling 100 million young people to be active citizens creating positive change in their communities and in the world based on shared values.”
